Laswell Downs Ranft in Handball Feature

BATTERS WAY TO SEMIFINALS

George Klawiter Has Easy

Donnell and Hunt Also Cop
Their Struggles

Maynard Laswell, runner-up for title honors in the National Handball tournament this year, battered his way into the semi-finals for the Los Angeles Athletic Club handball singles championship yesterday afternoon by defeating Bill
"Murderball" Ranft in three hard-fought sets, 20-21, 21-14, 21-10.
Laswell's continuous battering finally wore Ranft down, after the latter had taken the first set.

George Klawiter, former L.A.
A.C. champion, also won his match, downing George Hipd,

PREAKNESS WILL BE STAGED AT PIMLICO TRACK SATURDAY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The 1932 Preakness promises to be the greatest race in the country outside of the Kentucky derby.
The Pimlico classic will be run next Saturday, and at the present writing it appears that at least twenty of the best 3-year-olds in the country will line up at the barrier for the East's richest stake.
The Preakness is just at the right distance for an early stake.
The mile and a furlong route is a fine stepping stone for the Kentucky derby. The race will be worth approximately $50,000.

SPORT SHRAPNEL

HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

There probably is no more thankless task in baseball than that of relief pitcher.

He is a truck horse for work, but receives little credit except in the emergency, and his chances for becoming very large there are not particularly great.

Some of these emergency pitchers, probably most of them, have more natural ability than they are permitted to show. A heavier who is shot in as a game-saver rather than as a regular turn,

who is warming up intermittently in the bullpen, seldom gets a chance to bring into his real stride. Unless he is endowed with an exceptional stomach, he is likely to be taken off his effectiveness—that edge which spans the difference between a good and so-so stuff, and real accomplishment.

BOTTLE TELLS WRECK TALE

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.), May 8.—The disappearance of the U.S.S. Cyclops, giant cutter that sailed from Barbados, W. I., on March 14, 1918, never to be heard from again, was recalled here today with the finding of a bottle floating in the shallow water in front of the Hotel Ambassador, Chelsea, by Miss Dorothy Walker of Pittsburgh.

"Cyclops wrecked at sea," read message signed "H" on a piece of notebook paper, yellowed and having the appearance of being fifty-one years old.

It is now an open secret that the Cyclops interests were glad to get rid of a bad bargain. This fact is now made the more apparent by the semi-official announcement received by the operating officials of the line that an order will be issued soon for the abandonment of all freight service, both transatlantic and local.

The passenger service is already so irregular as to be of no value as a source of revenue. Trains are run once every three days.

OUTLOOK IS POOR
Since the Tehuantepec National was taken over and merged with the National Railways of Mexico by decree of Carranza it has continued on the downgrade. During the early part of the revolution the line was idle for months at a time. Even with tranquility well established there has been no increase of traffic. The outlook for future business is said to be bleak.

There was a big falling of oil immediately upon the opening of the canal and this has continued to gradually decrease ever since.

PROSPECTS ARE SEEN
There is said to be favorable prospect of a revival of the agricultural industry along the line, and if this takes place, the local exposed to the sun for a long time. The writing was perfectly legible. Miss Walker, with friends, was on a carter along the beach when she sighted the bottle near the shore. The message was revealed when she rode her horse into the water and opened the bottle.

The fate of the Cyclops has been one of the mysteries of the sea. She carried a crew of fifteen officers and 215 men in addition to six army officers and fifty-one enlisted men as passengers.

Freight traffic may ultimately increase. No railroad on the continent has had a more eventful history than the Tehuantepec National. Its construction is known to have cost first and last more than $100,000,000 United States currency. The project was first conceived by American investors and they spent several million dollars in construction work. After years of delay and intermittent attempts to build the line it was finally finished by the Mexican government.

Territorial tropical rains and floods repeatedly destroyed the road a time or two, and it was rebuilt at heavy cost. The line was leased by the government to S. Pearson & Son, Ltd., British contractors, of which Sir Westman Pearson, now Lord Cowdray, was head, more than thirty years ago, and was operated by that firm until the contract was canceled by Carranza.

POLITICIANS
SEEK JAPAN
COIN PROFIT
"Hard Times" Plan Made by Industrial Concerns to Get Millions

TOKIO, May 8.—The exchange section of the Ministry of Finance of the Japanese government, according to reports, is now planning to issue a new bill to stop the use of the funds was introduced and passed at the session of the Diet just over the time being, the money is being held intact by the Ministry of Finance.

In the meantime the politicians of various parties are maneuvering to get a portion of this money. While other big industrial concerns, like the Fuji Gas Company, and the Kanagawa Spinning Company, intend to ask the government to lend them a portion of this money on the ground that times are hard and that they need all possible aid to enable Japan to keep her hold on such markets as she has at present, the bar, the authorities are against using the money for any other purpose than what it was originally earmarked for—namely the promotion of social welfare enterprises, and it is possible the government will introduce a new bill into the Diet to prevent the use of the money for such purposes.

THE BIG IDEA

The "big idea" in our business of clothes-making is to think more about what we give to the man who buys our clothes than we think about what he gives us. That may sound like talk; an "awfully good" attitude. Not a bit of it. It's the greatest business-building idea we know of.

To see how much real value can be put into clothes; to give more and more attention to style; to be sure of high quality in fabrics and tailoring; to sell at as low a price as possible—these things are the "big idea"

Eczema Sufferers All Over the States Praise HOKARA

Erie, Pa.—"For one year my right hand was a raw sore from eczema. Two jars of Hokara entirely cured me. It is a wonderful remedy and I cannot praise it too highly."

Andover, Ohio—"I had eczema on my limbs and feet for more than 30 years. I was over 70 years old when I started using Hokara and it entirely cured me. It is a wonderful remedy."

Little Rock, Ark.—"I had eczema for 30 years and until I used Hokara got only temporary relief. It was a dreadful sight from this dread disease and so terrible I could hardly see. The eczema has entirely gone, thanks to Hokara. It actually did wonders for me."

Old Orchard, Maine—"It was a fortunate day for me when I was advised to use Hokara for my eczema. Certainly was discouraged as the doctor declared my case was one of the worst he had ever seen. Hokara relieved me at once and in a short time worked a wonderful cure."

Joseph, Mo.—"I suffered with eczema from a child. It was all over my body—even in my hair and bottom of my feet. Hokara cured me. An allergy well and have been free of it over two years."

The secret of Hokara's great success in the treatment of the more stubborn cases of eczema and other skin diseases lies in the fact that it contains no grease, that it does not clog the pores and that its powerful yet safe antiseptics are carried through the pores to the underlying cause of all the trouble. It is an actual antiseptic skin food and is obtainable at all first-class drug stores.—Advertisement.

"I was a sufferer for several years from kidney and bladder trouble and had to get up many times each night on account of the condition that was in. I was obliged to try Dr. Carey's Marshmallow Prescription No. 777 and to my great surprise and satisfaction I was able to lie down and sleep undisturbed. I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and would advise any who are suffering from this terrible disease to try Dr. Carey's Marshmallow Prescription No. 777. Sincerely, C. H. Ritchie, Elmhurst."

What is Dr. Carey's Marshmallow? It is Dr. Carey's own prescription known as No. 777, for many years used by him with remarkable success in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles. It consists of a number of tablets that have a direct and specific action on the kidneys and urinary organs. It can always be obtained at all good drug stores in the country.—Advertisement.

S.S.S. routs Eczema

Here's something about S.S.S. that you'll be glad to hear.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red blood cells to the point where it is the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? They say just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digesting, torturing and its scorching, unrelenting itching, pimples, blackheads, and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1891! S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cleansing, blood-purifying, and body-builders known to us mortals!

When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routes eczema, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

People Notice It Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear within a few days. But the tablets will clear the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a "dark-brown" face. I had breath, a "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, and a pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are one of their own. They clear the bowels or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 50¢ and 90¢.—Advertisement.

He read the signal, as she lay there with chattering teeth: "All up—Get away quick—these are police—meet you in London—hurry—hurry—in two months—hurry."

"Where—write?" he implored her, by word of mouth, covering the question by shifting his body, exploring fingers from the wounded left shoulder to the right.

She closed her eyes. "C.N." she answered. She repeated it, and then faintly dead away.

Durkin dropped the sleeve he looked at the man about him with a sudden towering, almost drunken madness of relief, a madness which they took for sudden rage.

"You fool you," he called at them. "You fool couldn't you see it—this woman's dying! Here, you, quick—compress this artery with your thumb and index finger—lie!"

"I don't care who you are—telephone for my instruments—Doctor Hodgson, No. 18 West Third Street—quickly he remembered a throat doctor Frank had once consulted there—got me a sheet off one of the beds, quickly!"

He tossed his hat into the hall, jerked up his curtain, almost belatedly, himself, in the part he was acting.

"Water—where? I get a water-tap!" he demanded, feverishly, running to the door. Outside the room, he suddenly kicked his hat to the foot of the backstairs. He caught it as it rebounded from the second step, and, without looking up, he slipped down the first fire-escape across half-a-dozen houses, and slipped down the first fire-escape that offered.

At the third window, which was open, a stalwart Irish house-maid barred his progress. He told her, hurriedly, he was a fire-escape inspector for the City Department. Seeing that she doubted his word, he thrust a $5 bill in her hand. She looked at it, laughed cynically—and time, he felt, was worth so much to him—looked out at him again dubiously, and then in silence led him through the passages and down to the street-door.

As he turned hurriedly into Madison avenue, toward the Grand Central station, he heard the clang of a bell, and saw an ambulance cluster down the street. Then, to make sure of it, he repeated her message to himself: "Hotel Cecil—two months—C.N."

For a moment or two the "C.N." puzzled him. Then he remembered that only the day before he had been telling her the episode of the Charleston earthquake, how every wire was "lost" after the great shock, and how every operator for hundreds of miles about, during the next day of line-repairing, kept "C.N." until the wires were finally came from the debris of the dead city.

Through some trick of memory, he then knew, she had recalled the Morse signal for that southern city, in her emergency. There had been no time for thought, no chance for even momentary deliberation. "Charleston!" From that day the very name took on a newer and stranger meaning. He knew that during weeks of loneliness and wandering, it would be the city toward which his eyes and his heart would turn.

Jim Durkin saw his bride as a telephone call from the city department. Seeing that she doubted his word, he thrust a $5 bill in her hand. Chapter V
"Tomorrow for the States—for me England, and yesterday,"—the man, Durkin, came to the window looking down over the tangle and tumult of the Strand.

"For me, England and yesterday!" she repeated, and it was not until she had said the lines twice over that she remembered that she had first copied them in to her day-book, during her early homelike weeks in New York.

It was a long time, she knew, that she had been in London, and the loneliness of her second week in a London hotel, she told herself, that she brought about the change. If there were deeper and more dormant reasons, she was content to let sleeping dogs lie. But she did not deceive herself as to the meaning of the move. It was more than flight; it was her salvation.

She felt to shrieking again that she was dying, demanding shrilly why her doctor had not come. Through her cries, her almost ear-heard the sound of voices at the street-door. It was Durkin, at last, he had spoken a word to her with the two plain-clothes men, who she knew, would readily enough let him pass.

"Doctor!" she screamed, as she heard his steps on the stair. "Doctor! I'm dying, doctor! Are you never coming?"

She wondered, in her agony of mind and body, if he would be cool enough not to understand. Would he be fool enough?

Durkin's agents and the three plain-clothes men gathered about her silently, as they saw the intruder hurry in and drop on his knees before the woman. Is it you, doctor? she asked, with a gasping breath, shaking with an on-coming chill.

Durkin, in his dilemma, did not dare to look away from her face. He was blindly trying to grasp his way toward what he called a faint, and then, as he saw her, he was waiting for the least word, and then he moved to the open window, and closed it.

He bent over, trying to read the dumb agony in the woman's face. Then another of the men went to the door, to guard it. Durkin could see the shoes and trousers-legs of the others, up to the knees. Each pair of boots, he noticed, inconspicuously, had a character and outline of their own. Each pair of boots, he noticed, inconspicuously, had a character and outline of their own.

OLD STAGE STAR DIES IN ASYLUM

Final Curtain Descends for Sadie Martinot

Bleak Room Odd Contrast to Pomp and Glitter

Former Favorite Passes With Old Roles on Lips

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WATERTOWN (N. Y.) May 8.—
Sadie Martinot, in her day accustomed to all the glitter and pomp with which the Broadway star is surrounded, died an insane pauper at the Ogdensburg State Hospital today. As the curtain fell for her on the drama of life she lay in a room bleak and sparsely furnished in striking contrast to her environment as the star of "Nanon" at the Old Casino in New York back in the eighties.

Heart and kidney trouble, from which she had suffered for years, caused her death. She was brought to the Ogdensburg hospital in 1913 from the Manhattan
State Hospital and her identity remained a mystery until two years ago, when an old friend recognized her. At the hospital she was registered as Sadie Martinot.

Netherlands and it was thought she had a husband in England. She has no relatives so far as is known.
Most of the time after she reached the Ogdensburg hospital Miss Martinot's mind wandered and she would run over and over again the roles she played such as "Katrinka" in Planquette's "Rip Van Winkle," "Dora" in Rose Cough-lan's "Diplomacy" company;
"Susette" in "The Voyage of Henry Miller."
She was at the height of her fame on Broadway thirty-five years ago but was seen on the Rialto until a decade ago, when she disappeared quite suddenly.
She was 61 years of age.

THIEF'S CONSCIENCE PROTECTS EMPLOYER

(BY A. P. MORT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.— Earl D. Wilson, a bank teller, who said his conscience would not permit him to rob his employer, confessed today, according to police, that he had committed burglary of more than twenty houses in San Francisco, obtaining more than $20,000. Carl Kennedy, a companion, confessed, the police said, that he had aided Wilson. A third man is being sought.
Wilson is a teller of the Bank of San Francisco, at San Francisco, and formerly was a teller at the Federal Reserve Bank at Omaha, Neb.
He said he needed money to en-tain his friends and that his salary as bank teller was insufficient.

Where Do You Look for "Houses to Let?"

You turn naturally to the "Houses to Let" columns of the newspaper with the biggest selection. In Los Angeles, it is THE TIMES.

In the month of April, for instance, THE TIMES published 2127 more "Rental" Want Ads than the next Los Angeles newspaper.

Every day there are scores of places offered for rent in THE TIMES that you will find nowhere else.

And—in addition—you will note that THE TIMES' method of classifying "Rental" Want Ads according to district is distinctly superior to any other system in use by Los Angeles newspapers. It is the last word in house hunting con-

Who are looking for a sure place to put their money—where it will get the greatest return without risk, we have the soundest opportunity in Los Angeles!

This is an established, well-managed company owning its own splendid industrial property and producing, in large volume, the materials which are being used in the growth and building of this great wonder city.

The officers of this company have brought it to its present successful condition and their standing, as well as the standing of the company, are of the highest in the community.

This is a splendid opening for the small as well as the large investor.

Drop us a line or call upon us and we will tell you all about it.

HARBOR FACES EMBARGO

Shipping Officials Cite Necessity of Refusing Freight if Strike Conditions Continue

With the harbor facilities stretched to the utmost to accommodate the ships used up by the strike of the transport workers, representatives of the large intercoastal lines declared yesterday that it may be necessary to refuse further cargoes either way between Atlantic ports and Los Angeles, unless the strike is settled immediately.

Yesterday a number of large ships were forced to anchor in the outer harbor until docking space could be found for them and a number of other vessels bound for Los Angeles with cargoes for local merchants have been diverted to other ports pending a settlement of the strike.

The first group of the 200 non-union workers is expected to arrive from the north in a few days and it is hoped with the help of the newcomers some of the ships may be cleared. No trouble has been encountered with the crews and while some men have left their situation.

Lieut. Macready Captures More Than Records and Fame by Long Nonstop Flight

It was no idle boast that Lieut. John A. Macready, superman and partner of Lieut. Oakley Kelly in the shattering of various and sundry world's air records, made when he reached San Diego after the first nonstop flight across the continent. It will be made good today. "I have won a bride in addition to a record," Lieut. Macready said. And he then proceeded, casting the astonishing air voyage into oblivion, with his description of his bride-to-be.

CITY HALL SITE CAMPAIGN OPENS

Council Orders Straw Vote on June Ballot

North or South Location is to be Decided

Planning Commission Favors Civic Center

center was first proposed, the city and county joined in employing Cook & Hall, landscape engineers and city planning experts of this city, to lay out the plan of the civic center, which they have done, showing how the administrative buildings will form a great group of public buildings unsurpassed by any city in the world, and worthy of Los Angeles. In this plan the City Hall would be located on Main street, north of First street, separated only by an extended Spring street from the Hall of Records.

ARGUMENT PREPARED
Cook & Hall, the engineers, have prepared an argument setting forth the need of an administrative civic center for the metropolitan district from the mountains to the sea, or the Greater Los Angeles of today and the governmentally unified district of tomorrow. This argument, which has been published in the California Southland and will also be printed in many other publications before election day and disseminated among the voters, is as follows:

The ideal administrative center (and by administrative center is meant the intelligent grouping of such buildings as comprise city administration, county administration, and where possible the State and Federal) should be located in the city plan as to be readily accessible to the public who have business to transact; and yet an administrative center should never be in the midst of traffic confusion. In other words, an administrative center having very large and special functions of its own should be somewhat set apart from ordinary business activities; should be planned to take care of diverse administrative functions efficiently and expeditiously in a location free from the confusion and congestion of city thoroughfares; and yet it should be readily accessible to the traveling public from the entire regional district.

Conversely, an administrative center planned about the intersection of two or more highways is sure to suffer in its special functions by traffic congestion unless very extensive reserve parking for automobiles can be provided, and such a location be arranged to provide that intimate relationship between building groups as to develop an administrative center of architectural merit.

The site under consideration lies between First street on the south, Sunset Boulevard on the north, Main street on the east, and a location of definite focal point when one thinks of the Greater Los Angeles with a metropolitan district that must eventually comprise the whole county.

Our instructions upon undertaking this work were to preserve intact the historic old mission and the Plaza, were to consider the present Federal Building and the Hall of Records as landmarks, and were to recognize the new Hall of Justice as located at the intersection of Broadway and Temple streets.

TUNNEL INADEQUATE
Based on our study of the site and its topography in relation to the city plan, we became convinced that the present Broadway tunnel is inadequate in serving the increasing volume of travel that even today collects at Sunset Boulevard and North Broadway intersection. An open cut in order to make Broadway a street of 100-foot width is, in our opinion, a public traffic necessity. Through traffic and ordinary business travel require that Broadway and Main street become increasingly great arteries of travel, and Main street should be widened to at least 100-foot width.

We also became convinced that the continuation of Spring street to an intersection with Sunset Boulevard, where a plaza or concourse should be developed to care for the great accumulation of travel at this crucial point in the street system. Whether or not a union station is developed at the site shown on our plans, it should be recognized that a broadening of Sunset Boulevard to create a generous plaza at the intersection of these streets is essential to traffic circulation.

Our plans were developed during several months of intensive study involving the construction of a model to insure an intelligent conception of the relationship between the building groups and the open area. Many consultations were held with the City Planning Commission, and Gordon Whittall, secretary of the commission, including conferences with the building committee of the City Planning Commission.

In March resolutions were passed by the City Planning Commission approving the scheme as then drawn in relation to street widening, proposed grouping of public buildings, and the engineering solution of the problem, which took into consideration the existing hill in the vicinity of Fort Moore Place, and created an administrative center of unusual individuality.

TRAFFIC CONSIDERED
Without going into a detailed description of technical details at this time, we would point out some of the salient features of our planning, which has carefully considered the street circulation, with extensive parking for automobiles distinct from the through traffic, and has created a relationship between the proposed building masses and the open spaces that we feel sure will create a happy composition of the whole. It should be understood, however, that our perspective drawing of the administrative center is not more than a suggestive interpretation of the architecture which is a factor that must be carefully studied in relation to each building and relative to every other building in the center.

Taking advantage of the higher elevations that exist between Temple street and Sunset Boulevard in the central part of the area being considered, the scheme of design develops on the axis of Spring street, an expanding view of the administrative center from a point considerably south of First street, and this view will be accumulative in its effect as one travels for some 1200 feet into the administrative center on a slightly rising street gradient, and a double entrance street portal of architectural merit will lead to the subway with large overhead openings (balustraded) to provide ventilation and sunlight.

This subway, some 700 feet in length, would open out on the Sunset Boulevard Plaza, and would provide a great artery for travel without in any way creating congestion within the administrative center. At an elevation of approximately 25 feet above the pavement of the subway would lie a plaza or terrace 300 feet wide and 500 feet long about which would be grouped in the probable near future a Federal Building, a State Building, and what we have termed the Courts. The proposed Hall of Justice and the present Federal Building would also share by looking out upon this terrace, while, at the same time, a pleasant concourse for pedestrians having business between the several buildings would be free from the noise and confusion of automobiles. We believe this terrace with its architectural architecture will develop an administrative center grouping of distinct individuality and great attractiveness.

AIM AT EXPANDING VIEW
We have spoken of the aim to create an expanding view of the administrative center to one approaching from the south on Spring street and would point out that a strong terminal building located some 1000 feet from First street would become a most impressive note in the picture. The City Hall located in a banking position would stand as an extremely important factor in the

CITY PAY INCREASES URGED

Mushet Introduces Resolution for Employees With Salaries Ranging Under $120

Councilman Mushet, chairman of the City Council's Finance Committee, at yesterday's session of the Council, introduced a resolution to increase by 100 month the salaries of all city employees receiving $120 a month or less.

Under a blanket increase in salaries for city employees, ordered by the City Council to take effect July 1, the lower-paid city employees were increased by a $10 a month, and Councilman Mushet, who secured increases for the fireman and policeman, especially those receiving the lowest salaries in the department, maintained that those receiving the lowest salaries should be increased first and most.

Whereas, the City Council recently granted a blanket increase of pay to all city employees which increase was based largely upon the argument that the pay was not commensurate with the cost of living.

Resolved, that the City Attorney and the Efficiency Director be and they are hereby instructed to revise the salary and standardization ordinance to take effect upon July 1 next, so that all persons whose starting compensation was less than $120 per month shall be increased $20 per month.

"In making the increases above set forth the City Attorney and the Efficiency Director shall credit a portion of that increase any increase that were included in the last budget and adopted by the Council," or increases that have been authorized by the Council the adoption of the budget."

administrative center and would be the most impressive building as the Los Angeles skyline. With its southern facade overlooking the park-like entrance to the city hall, the plan of the City Hall site must be recognized as being secondary to the building in the center. It should also be noted that the location in close proximity to First street, Spring street and Main street, and the fact that the parking for automobiles as an essential part of the plan, ensures an accessibility to the city hall where the traveling public that leaves nothing to be desired.

In view of the fact that the citizens of Los Angeles will be asked to select a site for the City Hall, and we have heard it expressed by some of the city planning that an administrative center should properly be located in the center of the city, the following statement: Experience in city planning and a study of land valuations leads to the general conclusion that where administrative centers, or City Halls, are placed in the active business district, the land values in the neighborhood are increased, and the city is enabled to increase the property values.

It is our firm conviction that economy, convenience, and efficiency all point to the wisdom of locating the City Hall in close proximity to the business district; and that intelligent city planning for the future demands a comprehensive study of the city plan, as now unanimously approved by the City Planning Commission, in order to determine the wise location of city, State and Federal buildings.

to construct a railroad line from El Segundo to Wilmington. The company has no less than twelve miles of track between the two cities and to build new stations at Lomita and Harbor City, including erection of six new steel bridges over the tracks. A detailed survey has been completed by engineering and right-of-way departments, and the intention of the company to start operations as soon as the necessary steel arrives on the road.

NEW STATIONS
A new passenger and freight station, to cost approximately $100,000, will be erected at Wilmington to care for the increased traffic that is expected. Several sites are under consideration at Wilmington, but the one selected is a tract of 10 acres, owned by the Southern Railway, and as a distributing center. At present trains are brought to Los Angeles by classification yards, then returned to the harbor city, but with the contemplated plan the trains will be classified at Wilmington yards, thus saving considerable time and relieving serious traffic on the road.

C. Shockley of the Shockley Company reports the sale of a sixty-foot frontage on Hollywood Boulevard, between 10th and 11th streets, for $100,000. The site is located on the south side of the street, between 10th and 11th streets, and is 173 feet in depth. Mrs. Constance V. Louis Perry, the seller, was represented by E. C. Adams, head of the identification bureau, identified Reid's handwriting on the deed, which was signed by "Red" McMullen, was shot by Reid, who he declared, during the hold-up.

Safady said Reid turned to the member of the jury and said, "Why in hell don't you do something?" whereupon the hold-up man fired at Safady. The bullet missed him and struck a safe, Safady swore.

SPECTATORS SEARCHED
F. W. Smith, a plumber and business neighbor of Wilmington, said that he had worked for him. Detective Lieutenant Bean identified a hat bearing the name of James Horan, which he said was Reid's possession, and Horan swore Reid had been with him, saying he had lost his own "in a place where I popped out a guy." Jailer Mark Baer Adams, head of the identification bureau, identified Reid's handwriting on the deed, which was signed by "Red" McMullen, was shot by Reid, who he declared, during the hold-up.

It is expected the State will rest after about an hour's testimony today.

Male spectators, entering the courtroom yesterday, were searched for weapons, and the hands of women were searched also.

JAIL DELIVERY PLOT IS FOILED

sort of a man you are, I would ask you the following questions. I have been double-crossed so much that I am very distrustful. Now if you will go the limit in the event of a bad jam. (Answer by Reid: Yes.)

Have you been in here before? (Yes.)

Have you the assurance that your brother and friends will stand through a shooting scrape? (Yes.) Have they been in a shooting before? (Plenty.)

Would they stand pat in case you didn't get out? (Sure.) Have you been under fire yourself? (Many times.)

Are you a good shot? (As good as the next.)

Did you kill the party you are charged with killing? (Yes.) Is something I can't answer, but they have six eyewitnesses.

Would you like to tell your scheme going through? (Yes.) Are you willing to kill about four times if they stand in your way? (I will kill them all if they don't do as I say.)

WOULD KILL DEPTIES
I would like to tell the deputies before they shoot me the plan? (I would like to tell and kill all I can.)

There are many more questions that I would like to ask you, but these will serve to give me a line about the kind of a fellow you are to take such desperate chances with. When you answer these questions I will let you know if I will go the limit with you and your pals.

Just answer each one of these on this same paper, simply write yes or no at the end of each question. I will let you know if you stand. Return this with answer.

Witness I wrote a little more than yes or no, but it's all right, as long as they don't get anything but the fourth than everything will be taken.

Herb said that if you will stand all expenses that he can get his brother to get enough men to reform the jail and take us out, and if he gets the money he will put his brother on the trail of me. He is not sure he can get them, but is sure of the other. Answer soon.

WITNESSES TESTIFY
The reference to "Blair" in the first note, it was said, meant Nick Sutherland, who escaped from an asserted plot to liberate Reid, Wilson and Alguin the night of March 4, last. Sutherland was captured in a car, in an automobile, armed with three pistols, and is now in San Quentin.

Three of the six asserted eyewitnesses to the Wilmington murder were among the first called when the jury was completed. They were Louis W. Munson, Harry H. Ingham and Joseph Safady.

PROGRAM WORK OF FRATERNITY

Phi Mu Alpha Musicians Give Variety of Selections

Southern California Quartet in Good Old Songs

Soprano Sings Payne Tribute to Family Hearth

BY BEN A. MARKSON
Vocal and instrumental music that spoke of genuine ability, coupled with earnest study, made a success, measured in terms of pleasure to listeners-in, of the program at KJH given by members of Alpha Epsilon of Phi Mu Alpha, College of Music, University of Southern California.

The fraternity program followed in the wake of that arranged recently by Phi Phi Honor Society, college of music, U.S.C., presenting selections by composers of the first rank. David Sanders, faculty member, and Robert Lackey, baritone, participated in the Phi Phi Honor Society as well as in that last night. The accompanist of the evening was Edgar Hansen. He is to be congratulated upon his sincere musicianship. The accompanists were exceptional in their adjustment to execution and mood.

Two compositions by Godard that seek the very heart of the violin were rendered by David Sanders and Arthur Perry. The duets were "Souvenir" and "Berceuse." Robert Lackey's numbers were Tosti's "Good-bye" and "Prologue," the favorite baritone selection from "Lacena's" opera, "Pagliacci," which the singer gave most effectively. Mr. Lackey's voice is of an admirable quality for broadcast purposes.

FAVORITE HEARD

Howard Coy favored with songs of a rich, poetic nature. "I'll Sing The Songs of Araby," by Clay, and "Cargoes" by Dobson. Harry Harbin, another pleasing vocalist, sang Lehmann's "Myself When Young" (in a Persian Garden) and "The Last Call" by Sanderson. Raymond Cowley is talented both in singing and in elocution. His song number was "Dream Children," by Elvira, and he gave readings by Edgar Guest, Howard Bridgeport, and vocal offerings included "Pilgrim's Song," by Tchaikovsky, and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Harmony that went over the air in great style was provided by the Southern California Quartet. This singing foursome favored with "On the Sea," by Buck; "Winter Song," by Bullard; "Funiculi Funicula," by Denza, and Cooke's "Spirited Swing Along."

An ensemble number, "Infinita Song," by Hansen-Coy-Bridgeport, was one of the features of the program. Naturally, it was a melody of fine effort, the composers, themselves, being in the studio.

MORE FINE PIANISTS
As was remarked in this column not so long ago, the College of Music, U.S.C., has a penchant for turning out skilled pianists. Three were on the program last night.

Earl Stone, Robert Broadwell and Clarence Johnson. Mr. Stone favored with "Country Gardens," by Grainger, and "Minuet," by Mirovitch. Mr. Broadwell's numbers were "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," by Liszt, "Staccato Etude," by Leachetinsky, and "Hark! Hark! The Lark," by Schubert-Liszt. Clarence Johnson played "Polichinelle," by Rachmaninoff.

Irving Ullmer, cornetist, played selections that were excellent in execution and of fine melody, including "Pensée à Moï," Arthur Bakley, widely known organist, accompanied him.

Back again! Mode Wineman's "Memories of a Camera," came in for reading. The pianist has traveled to far, beautiful places with Mr. Wineman's almost human camera. Last night the trip was close to home, "Palm Canyon." This artist of photographic wonders has evolved an exquisite descriptive style of writing that visualizes rugged nature before the eyes of listeners-in.

It is to be hoped that none of the KJH fans missed "Home, Sweet Home," sung yesterday evening by Georgia Stark, coloratura soprano.

Maud Haskins Harpist

Introducing the Southland's Junior Harpist, Maud Haskins, Aged 12

soprano. This gifted singer, who recently was chosen as one of a quintet out of seventy-five contestants in singing in Southern California, must in eloquence and feeling into the song rarest heard. She played also, in the world of song, the one hundredth anniversary of John Howard Payne's tribute to the family hearth, "Carrie Preston Rittmeister gave symphonic melodious accompaniment to the number. Georgia Stark is a rising star in the world of song.

FLUTE APPLAUD
Starring on the children's program was Marguerite de Forest Anderson. Flute of international reputation. Her feature selection was a medley, arranged by her, introducing "Yankee Doodle" in a novel fashion, and resembling the tinkling of a music box. It was musical demonstration of brilliant originality.

With her own arrangement of "Swanee River," and gave masterly coloring and expression to Debussy's "The Little Shepherd." Carrie Preston Rittmeister at the Knabe, Collette Leggett, unusually graceful and accomplished child, only recently initiated as a KJH singer of popular songs in the "I Were Young, Maggie," and "An Old-Fashioned Garden." She has a voice that promises a future.

J. S. Torrence, reader, added to the program for the ladies and ladies, with "The Crown's Baby," by Margaret Vandergift.

Arthur Raymond Hill, "matinee tenor," and one of the most popular singers of popular songs in Los Angeles, raised his voice for the edification of noon-hour listeners. He was accompanied by a pianist.

Known to KJH, our radio standby, Harry James Beardsley, Mr. Hill's way of singing and the quality of his voice have won him favor in places of amusement. Yesterday noon he sang "Why Don't You Love Me Like You Used to Do?" by Leo Wells, and "Ha, Ha, Ha," a request number. This sunny Southern singer, who is a professional work brought him to KJH's attention, has appeared on ten different occasions. Hearers want him back.

Ethel Sanborn, pianist, who is rising into prominence through her popular compositions, introduced her latest number yesterday, "Yearning," a fantastic melody that tells in its rhythm the longings of a castaway. Her biggest song hit so far, "Hindu Love Moon," was sung by Paul Patten, "artist plunger," whose tenor voice has made him what he is today. There is a touch of poetry in the song, the chorus of which goes:

Hindu love moon, shining above,
Go find my love, Hindu love moon.
On mystic night in your dim light,
There love's farewell kiss
Told a goodbye 'neath your pale light.

Hindu love moon, bring back my love tonight.
Paul Patten, with Miss Sanborn at the piano, sang popular songs by other Los Angeles song-writers, including "Pleading to Call You Mine," by Emil Meine and Charles Priests, "It Takes But a Moment to Say Goodbye," by Winkle-Burke-Turkstein, and "Somebody Stole You From Me," by Roy Fox and Jack Lax.

The second of a series of culture talks was given by Isabelle Hanbury. She offers her suggestions in a clever, friendly way, although she takes an iconoclastic stand on such familiar salutations as "How are you?" and "How do you do?" She insists they are of a personal nature, entirely out of order, and woefully lacking in originality.

TEXAN MEETING DELAYED
The May meeting of the Texas State Society has been postponed from the 11th to the 18th inst. The meeting will be in the Music-Arts Hall, 138 South Broadway, and a varied program of music and dancing has been arranged. Former residents of the Lone Star State and tourists from that State are invited to attend.

Change in Name From Moses to Morse is Asked
The name Moses in days of yore aroused only honor and respect in the minds of men, but that same name today is the object of taunts and ridicule, according to an application made in Superior Court yesterday. Kenneth Wesley Moses, formerly of Filiburg, Mass., and now of Los Angeles, petitioned the court to change his name from the light to the dark.

Mr. Moses, who is 28 years of age, told the judge the name had been distinctively his from childhood. He said the boys he played with had always called him "Moses in the burlesque," and said that nowadays when he met a stranger, some laughing reference would be made to "where was Moses when the lights went out?"

Mr. Moses told the court he was fatigued with this sort of ridicule, which he believed would continue so long as his name remained the same. Attorney W. L. Gilbert represented Mr. Moses. The court took the application under advisement.

BALLOON IS SUCCESS IN RADIO TEST
Experiments at Burbank Show Programs Easily Captured at High Altitudes

Radio experiments conducted by the Colburn-Knabenshue Company of Burbank with a radio balloon have been most successful in further establishing the value of the high vertical antenna. Tests Saturday evening, for instance, at a 600-foot elevation were made possible by the use of a round balloon of 175 feet diameter.

Sufficient volume through a loud speaker was obtained to enable a crowd at the Merchants' Exposition to hear programs being broadcast from KJH, The Times, and other stations. The reception was distinct in every part of a 600-foot tent.

This was accomplished by a stock detector without amplification. The one or two-step amplification. The one or two-step amplification. The one or two-step amplification. The one or two-step amplification.

LECTURE FOR PUBLIC
The public is invited to a lecture on "Woodpeckers," to be given by Prof. L. E. Wyman at 2:30 p.m. on the 17th inst. at the State Building, Exposition Park. Preceding the lecture, members of the Los Angeles Audubon Society will conduct a meeting in the State Building at 1:45 p.m.

BETTER PACIFIC RELATION URGED

Netherlands Stresses Need of Trade Advantages

Tells Commercial Value of Dutch East Indies

Japanese Consul Praises Hospitality of City

Friendly relationship among the United States, Japan and the Netherlands, the possibility of a greater volume of commerce among these countries and the development of the Dutch East Indies to the mutual advantage of the various nations, including the Dutch colonies, were emphasized at a luncheon at the Elks yesterday, given by the Chamber of Commerce in honor of J. B. Hubrecht, secretary of the Netherlands delegation at Washington.

Consul U. Oyama, who will leave Los Angeles within a few days to take charge of his post as Japanese Consul-General at San Francisco, and who will be succeeded here by Consul Kishi, who will arrive here from Antwerp, Belgium, in June, made a brief address in which he thanked the people of Los Angeles for their hospitality to him during his seven years in Los Angeles.

Secretary Hubrecht, who is an astronomer of note, said that he never realized the glory of Southern California until a short time ago when he stood on the summit of Mt. Wilson and looked out over the thirty-one thriving cities that dot the landscape, cities in which live a people who are among the most advanced in the world.

Speaking of the possibilities of the development of trade between the Dutch East Indies and the Pacific Coast, Mr. Hubrecht said the inhabitants of these tropical islands have just begun to develop the needs and wants common to western civilizations, adding that American-made automobiles are the favorites. The population of Java, he said, which has grown from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 within the last century, is becoming increasingly interested in motion pictures.

Secretary Hubrecht, who is an astronomer of note, said that he never realized the glory of Southern California until a short time ago when he stood on the summit of Mt. Wilson and looked out over the thirty-one thriving cities that dot the landscape, cities in which live a people who are among the most advanced in the world.

Speaking of the possibilities of the development of trade between the Dutch East Indies and the Pacific Coast, Mr. Hubrecht said the inhabitants of these tropical islands have just begun to develop the needs and wants common to western civilizations, adding that American-made automobiles are the favorites. TROUBLED AGAINMiss La Marr Named by Man to Make Wife JealousMate Told Film Star Was in Love With HimActress Asserts Plot to Ruin
Her Reputation

A desire to make his wife, Mildred Gray, jealous, prompted Oscar H. Maynard to write letters to her stating that Barbara La Marr, the "too beautiful" actress, was in love with him, he admitted in a sworn statement made yesterday.

The statement, made before a notary public, came shortly after Mrs. Maynard had filed an amended complaint for divorce against her husband in which she incorporated numerous letters from her husband to the effect that the beautiful motion-picture actress was infatuated with him. It follows in part:

"This is to certify that statements appearing in letters written by me to my wife, Mildred Gray, in which I stated that Barbara La Marr was in love with me, were made for the purpose of making my wife jealous and were not true. I have never known her except in so far as during the time I was driving a motor car."

"The statements concerning Miss La Marr are entirely false."

At the same time Miss La Marr and her husband, Jack Dougherty, motion-picture actor, to whom she was married Saturday, issued a joint statement intimating that some unknown person was engineering a plot to injure Miss La Marr's character and prevent the successful completion of negotiations whereby the actress is to be starred under a new contract.

This, they declared, is evidenced by the fact that in Mrs. Maynard's original complaint against her husband the letters involving the actress were left out and that the new complaint was filed just a few days after her marriage.

Their statement follows:

"We understand that this is Mrs. Maynard's third complaint. In her two preceding complaints she failed to incorporate the letters which her husband wrote her. This leads us to believe that some unknown person is attempting to injure Miss La Marr's reputation for reasons unknown to us. It is our intention to sift this matter to the bottom and bring the guilty parties to justice."

The above was supplemented by another statement by Miss La Marr, in which she declared that Mr. Dougherty was not her fifth but her third husband.

"I have some right to happiness," she declared, "and these continuous slanders are making a nightmare of my life."

New York Film Trust Hearing Reveals Fabulous
Pay of Stars; With Expenses Deducted

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 8.—The film press agents gnash their teeth!

The amount of real money given the biggest stars in films for their work was revealed today. And not a single P. A. was around to back his habitual ciphers on the end of the figures.

The facts were revealed by James D. Williams, founder and until recently general manager of First National, Inc. He was testifying before the Federal Trade Commission examination into whether the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation is a trust. The figures came out when Robert T. Swaine, counsel for the Famous Players-Lasky cross-examined Williams.

"What was the first contract First National ever made?" asked Swaine.

"With Charlie Chaplin in 1917," answered Williams. "It was the famous $1,000,000 contract, which was called for eight pictures. It was the largest contract we made, and if you must know the truth, the cheapest in the long run."

Williams explained the film stars were paid for the completed negative, and out of the supply the actor or actress had to pay all expenses of making the picture.

From the star's pocket included the salaries of directors, cameramen and supporting cast, building of sets, film, negative, location, costs and traveling expenses. What was left the star would split with the studio.

In most cases, therefore, it was brought out the star's real profit was nothing to get very thrilled about. Some of the contracts followed.

Olga Petrova was paid $30,000 each for eight pictures.

SHERLOCK IS OUTCLASSED

Bellboy's Ready Ear at Hotel Keyhole Foils Asserted Bunko Plot; Two Are Jailed

The ambitious ear of a bellboy at a keyhole generated a comedy of errors yesterday afternoon which threw the Stillwell Hotel into an uproar and two asserted bunko men into the city jail. Other results tabulated were a victim-at-large and one black eye.

Albert Bennett and A. C. Gordon, the two men later arrested made a dash for freedom and the police the first of one came in contact with Mr. Bennett's eye. Bennett, the new arrival, also broke for the fresh air.

There followed a mad scramble for the street and the doorway of the hotel the two men later arrested turned north, while Bennett, who was the victim, fled toward the South as a general direction for departure.

Gordon and Bennett (the asserted bunko men, not the victim) were captured at Eighth street and Grand avenue by Officer White and the other, Bennett, had not put in an appearance late last night. Police expected he would get tired running by midnight, catch up with his associates and be dealt the missing details. F. C. Stillwell, manager of the Stillwell Hotel, carried the case to the police and the two men were taken to the police station.

Mr. Stillwell accompanied him on the return trip upward and knocked on the door of Bennett's room.

Whether the two asserted bunko men took any action against Bennett, police were unable to state last night. Mr. Stillwell is recovering rapidly, and the police believe, may some day become a great policeman, it is asserted.

HASTINGS DIES SUDDENLY

Noted Screen Writer Victim of Heart Disease in Home; Falls Dead as Wife Calls Physician

Wells Hastings, pioneer scenario writer, well-known novelist and short-story writer, died suddenly yesterday afternoon of heart disease at his home, 128 North St. Andrews place, Hollywood.

Mr. Hastings had been complaining of severe pains in his side for several weeks, but had continued his work at the Paramount studios. Yesterday morning he went to work as usual, but became violently ill about 11 o'clock and went home.

He talked for a time with his wife, and asked her to telephone for a doctor. While she was on the telephone, he cried out. When she hurried back, she found him lying dead on the floor.

Mr. Hastings was one of the first prominent magazine writers to ally himself with the motion-picture industry. He was associated with D. W. Griffith for more than ten years ago. His most successful scenario was "The Ghost in the Attic," in which Lillian Gish was starred. Two other notable scenarios were "The Man in the Brown Derby" and "The Professor's Mystery," written in collaboration with Brian Hooker. He contributed to most of the important magazines, and was for a time editor of Hampton's Magazine.

Mr. Hastings was a graduate of Yale University, and was one of the founders of the Yale Dramatic Club.

Mr. Hastings leaves his widow and five children, the oldest 15 years of age. He was the owner of several valuable Hollywood properties. Mr. Hastings' funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the chapel of Pierce Brothers, undertakers.

FILM LEADERS
PLAN CHANGESTo Make City Distributing Center of IndustryWill Supplant New York as ClearinghouseChain Theater Owners Meet to Discuss Aims

Preparations were begun yesterday by a group of film capitalists to place Los Angeles on the business map as the world's distributing center of the motion-picture industry, supplanting New York as the clearinghouse for the majority of independent feature productions.

Such were the predictions contained yesterday in a statement issued by Sol Lesser, who has been chosen as the representative of the new enterprise, and who declared that Los Angeles is destined to become the greatest distributing center, as well as the manufacturing center, of the motion-picture industry.

Eight of the leading motion-picture organizations and several smaller chains have welded themselves together in the proposed distributing machine. They include:

Albert Rosenberg, who controls twenty theaters in Seattle and other northern cities;

The Fabian interests of New Jersey, twelve theaters;

The Salaban & Katz theatrical holdings, Chicago, twenty-seven theaters;

The Stanley Amusement Company of Philadelphia, forty-six theaters;

With 112 theaters scattered throughout all the Southern States;

Finkelshtein & Ruben, with twenty-five theaters in Minnesota;

Lesser & Gora's West Coast Company holdings, controlling 114 theaters in California;

Los Angeles will be made the center of all these activities, Mr. Lesser said. "The purpose of the combination is to urge the manufacture of new and bigger independent pictures."

The new organization is not yet incorporated, and no name has been officially adopted.

BEATTY AND SHIRK LEAVE
LASKY FIRMArch Reeve to Succeed as Publicity Director at Film
Studio

For the purpose of accepting positions with other motion-picture organizations, Jerome Beatty, publicity director of the Famous Players-Lasky firm, and Adam Shirk, publicity director of the same company, yesterday announced their resignations had been tendered to Paramount Pictures.

With the resignation of Mr. Shirk, W. A. "Arch" Reeve, for almost four years assistant director of publicity, takes charge of all West Coast Paramount publicity activities. He will assume his new position on the date of Mr. Shirk's departure.

Mr. Shirk is well known in Los Angeles. He was at one time sporting editor of a local newspaper, leaving that position to enter the publicity field. He is a former president of the Western Motion Picture Advertisers (Wampas Club) and is a member of the Writers' Club of Hollywood.

Mr. Shirk's resignation takes effect the 15th inst. The following Monday he becomes supervisor of production for the Grand Studio, Hollywood, of which Samuel W. Grand is treasurer and general manager. It is at this studio that Monty Banks, Joe Rock and Sid Smith are now being featured in comedies. Special new units in feature productions with casts made up of well-known dramatic stars will be added soon, according to Mr. Shirk.

Hugo and Mabel Ballin, respectively director and star of Goldwyn's "Vanity Fair," left yesterday for New York. Final negotiations on several production offers which they are considering require their presence in the East after an absence of nearly a year. One proposition is for them to go to Europe and make or more pictures there.

Three new stories have been purchased by Metro for immediate production, according to an announcement made yesterday by Milton E. Hoffman, Metro production manager.

These stories are "Held to Answer," by Peter Clark Macfarlane; "May When It May Concern," by Rita Weiman; and "The Spirit of the Road," by Kate Jordan.

BOWERS THE HERO

PLAYS LEAD IN "WINNING OF BARBARA WORTH"

By Grace Kingsley

Not satisfied with obtaining the signatures of several of the screen's best-known leading women on their dotted lines, Principal Pictures Corporation have announced the services for a long term of a male star.

John Bowers is the latest addition to the Principal's fold and this noted artist's initial endeavor under the new banner will be the leading male role in Harold Bell Wright's "The Winning of Barbara Worth," in which he will play the part of Willard Holmes. He begins his new duties this month.

The "Winning of Barbara Worth" will be filmed on the desert of Arizona and lower California, with Edward F. Cline in charge of direction. Cline is now in Arizona seeking suitable locations, and the company should leave the end of this month.

Miss Anglin in Greek Drama. Let what stars will go in for the dramatic motion picture, it is the ancient classic that get all Margaret Anglin's votes.

Miss Anglin, who is reaching emotional heights never before attained even by her, in "The Woman in Brown," at the Metropolitan, appears once more in Greek classic drama. And the "Hippolytus" of Euripides is the latest to serve the powers of the noted actress.

"Hippolytus" is to be produced at the Berkeley Greek Theatre during the week of May 17. Miss Anglin and her husband visited Greece during the past summer, when she gathered material and data for her presentation, so that if the old Greeks don't properly represent in drama, it isn't going to be her fault.

A new play by Paul Keeler, not yet named, and about which Miss Anglin and all those around her are maintaining a deathlike silence, will be Miss Anglin's vehicle next year.

Manhattan Chapter Abroad. Another young star whose trunks are shortly to bear the marks of foreign travel, entitling her to admission to the Globe Theatre Guild, is Marguerite Clayton, who will go to Europe as soon as she completes her current picture.

Miss Clayton at present is playing the leading role in the Sunset production, "When Young Love Comes," being made at the Fine Arts Studios. As soon as this is completed, in course of a fortnight or so, Miss Clayton will be on her way to London.

While abroad, she expects to make two pictures, one in England and another in France. These may be independently produced, by her own company, by English or French. The details have yet to be arranged.

Several of Theodore Kosloff's dancers yesterday narrowly escaped serious burns during the filming of a scene in "Hollywood," the James Cruze production for Paramount. A sudden burst of flame from a vast cavern underneath the rock which they were making, threatened to envelop them.

The studio wizards inside the cavern did not see the flames until they were upon them, and when the director called action, loosed the flames which caused the dancing to continue with wilder abandon than ever. At first the frightened dancers held their places, not wishing to spoil the scene, but with second sheet of flame they decided that "Hollywood" was too hot for them.

They made their escape by scrambling down a steeper ledge with more haste than grace, and the extinguishers were soon at work putting out the flames.

Louise Fazenda Is It. That lively young person, Louise Fazenda, has been cast for the role of Mabel in the Warner Brothers production of "The Gold Diggers."

Two Members of Fast Dance Act

Terpsichorean Devotees. The Mosconi family, offering a speedy dance act, will be one of the features at Loew's State next week. Two members of the family are shown here.

four shows daily in Boston, with lines beginning to form at 8 o'clock in the morning. The star who recently came into the limelight through her connections with the James Cruze production, is doing a single act.

Priscilla Bonner With Bennett. Just as Priscilla Bonner had her heart all set on a dramatic screen career, along comes Mack Bennett and grabs her for the lead, in a comedy feature, "Where Is My Wondering Boy This Evening?"

CLIMB TO FAME A LONG, HARD GRIND. The career of Monte Blue, who has the part of Dr. Keanecott in "Main Street," now running at the Mission Theatre, carries a lesson for young men who seek to attain fame in the sphere of motion pictures.

After having traveled to the four corners of the world as soldier, sailor, adventurer and Jack-of-all-trades, Blue reached Los Angeles in 1913, and determined to get into the picture business.

He began with the Chopin Ballade in G minor. He treated this through study and wide research in the realm of piano literature, he offers not only the familiar, but much that is new.

His renditions are always positive and tend rather toward the "muscular" than pianissimo. Backgrounded as he is with thorough study and wide research in the realm of piano literature, he offers not only the familiar, but much that is new.

Two number of his own compositions, "To Jacques," a waltz, and "Serenade," merited applause. His waits abound in double notes, at times imitating the familiar, but forming a flowing accompaniment.

Familiar numbers played in presto tempo were the "Famous Double-note and revolutionary Chopin studies and "Etude en Forme de Valse," by Saint-Saens. Exceedingly interesting was the "Staccato Etude" by Rubinstein.

Two number of his own compositions, "To Jacques," a waltz, and "Serenade," merited applause. His waits abound in double notes, at times imitating the familiar, but forming a flowing accompaniment.

PLAYDOM

WESTWARD HO!

EASTERN STARS BRUGHTEN THE BOULEVARD

By Edwin Schallert

You almost need an eastern directory of film players to tell who's who in Hollywood these days, so great has been the rush of the cinema westward in the past few weeks. Of course, it is the high prices paid for talent that has brought most of them to the Coast, and most of them have already gotten good jobs with the leading organizations, and some of them like Percy Marmont and Mary Astor have never before played in the West.

Mr. Marmont is appearing in a picture called "The Alibi" at Vitagraph, his last work having been as the hero of "If Winter Comes," which was made partly abroad. Miss Astor who is under contract with Lasky's has been cast in the leading feminine role in "To The Ladies."

Another star who will shortly say his first visit to the Coast is Glenn Hunter. He is being signed by Famous Players. Still another is Dorothy Mackall. It is not known as yet in what production she will be cast. Miss Mackall is a Polles girl, who recently appeared in "Nighty Nite" at Rose.

Johnny Gorman, Gerard, Donald Crisp are others among the film famous to come westward. Mr. Crisp will not appear in any picture as he is to return to New York to direct Elsie Ferguson. Mr. Gorman has been absent from the Coast for several years. His brother, Douglas, has also recently come back from the East, and is soon to be followed by Randolph Valeriano, who has accompanied him to New York some months ago.

May Remun Abroad. The position of Andrea Lafayette, the girl whom Richard Walton Tully brought over from France to play the title role in "Tribute," is at the present moment a peculiar one. She has a record of good acting in one feature, but has nothing to show for it until the film is released. Consequently, she says she may have to return home before she can get another job.

It is understood, however, that the producing organization for which she is working has an option on her services, and may decide to use her in another film.

I know that among other things she has been considered by Mr. Tully for the role of Diana in "The Bird of Paradise," but as yet no decision has been made about producing this for the screen.

Bevan to Vacation. His contract with Mack Bennett being all but completed, Billy Bevan who has been appearing in two-reelers at the Mission Theatre, is making plans for a vacation, which will last several months. He is considering several propositions, and has decided to remain on the Coast.

Bevan is an Australian by birth, and was a member of the Pollard Opera Company. His first engagement was at the Mosconi stock company theatre, and shortly thereafter he was signed up for the comedies.

Coward Hero of Photoplay Here Sunday. Is the coward more heroic than the brave man? This is not a superfluous question No. 5,448,896, but is a really serious query propounded in connection with the film version of Jack Boyle's story, "The Last Moment," which opens at the California Theatre Sunday.

The theme of the story is the horror of fear. The brave man may not know fear. The coward knows fear and the horror of it. Yet the coward may go into danger just as readily as the brave man. Which, in such circumstances, is the more heroic?

The man in "The Last Moment" thought himself a coward and knew fear, but when the right instant came, his love for a girl, came to him, he faced danger—unknown perils which are harder to battle than the dangers—with a courage he never dreamed he had.

"The Last Moment" is an original screen story by Jack Boyle, author of the "Boston Blackie" stories. The three leading roles are enacted by Henry Hull, Louis Wolheim and Doris Kenyon.

With its picturesque visions of primeval forests, lurking across the Great Plains, playing their humble part in the winning of the West, "The Covered Wagon" is now in its fifth week at Grauman's Hollywood Egyptian Theatre.

ITS BLACK-TIPPED LACQUER-RED COLOR IS A GOOD REMINDER TO WRITE

Write her in time for Mother's Day

Via Duofold

The noblest work
this noble pen can do

NEXT Sunday will be Mother's Day. Every Mother at a distance from her son or her daughter will be hoping for that letter which will take you scarcely five minutes to write.

Surely that isn't a great deal for her to expect from one to whom she dedicated her life.

She will be watching for the mail-carrier—listening for the door-bell—waiting for that special delivery.

Who then would disappoint her; who would have Mother's Day come to its close, leaving in her heart the silent sorrow of neglect? Or who, if he knew the slight of a typewritten letter to her, would fail to write by hand?

So take out your Duofolds and Lady Duofolds: let the cheer of their black-tipped, lacquer-red barrels flash through their super-smooth points, making each line glow with their warmth and spontaneity.

If you like, go farther—send her a memento of the Day, send her the lovely $5 Lady Duofold pen, with handsome gold band and gold slipcase for her ribbon or chain. But whether you include this gift or not, wherever the Parker Duofold is seen this week, its flashing lacquer-red barrel broadcasts this message—

"Remember to write to Mother!"

TIGER GIRL HID IN HOLLYWOOD

Officers Find Bootleggers
Guarded Mrs. Phillips

Owner of Cottage Positive in Her Identification

Lived in Secluded Home
December to February

Guarded by a desperate band of high-jackers and bootleggers, Clara Phillips, slayer of Albert Meadows, spent a month and a half in a cottage on a quiet street in Hollywood, following her escape from Los Angeles County Jail on December 5, 1932, the District Attorney's office has learned.

A woman posing as her sister and believed by investigators to be Etta May Jackson, Mrs. Phillips' sister, was her companion. Mrs. Phillips was known as "Mrs. McCoy" and the sister was known as "Mrs. Harris" or "Mrs. Harrison." Several letters came addressed to "Mrs. Harris" and "Mrs. Harrison," investigators say they learned.

The four men in the party are said to have represented themselves as being automobile salesmen, but they have been identified as members of a gang of high-jackers and bootleggers.

COTTAGE SECLUDED
It was early in December, about the time of Mrs. Phillips' escape from the County Jail, that the four men and the one woman rented the cottage. Nestling at the foot of a steep hill and secluded from the busy part of Hollywood, the location was an ideal refuge.

From photographs of Mrs. Phillips shown her by a Times reporter, she picked two as being likeliest of one of her women tenants.

It was on December 27, 1932, that Mrs. Phillips in her cell in Teguicalpa was reported to have retained her air of indifference yesterday despite identification.

Police Assent Man Attempted to Kill Sweetheart and Wounded Two Who Came to Her Aid

Will Nabors, who has a reputation as a "bad man" from Texas planned to kill his sweetheart early yesterday morning. A friend and brother of the girl interfered with his plan. He shot both of them and then, the police say, he stole the trousers of one of his victims. Miles Wagner is dying from the wounds of an assault with intent to murder. He was shot in the chest by Nabors, who was accompanied by two other men, in a critical condition at the Receiving Hospital.

Only one short week ago Johnnie was kind and meek, thus ending the happiest five months of our lives. Something evil had entered her precious life and turned her love from me, but in the other and better life she was to realize my love for her.

When she is in the death-whisper in her ear I still love her and she will understand.

Miss Foster read one of the notes which Nabors wrote about "Johnnie" Foster, his former sweetheart. She accompanied Nabors from Baton Rouge, N. M., to Los Angeles last January. She had known him since 1914.

Miss Foster recently broke her engagement to Nabors and moved to the home of her sister, Mrs. Lucille Remsburg, in the bungalow court. She had learned that bootlegging was not an honorable way to pursue fortune. Following the collapse of their romance, Nabors wrote his love thoughts on the reverse sides of two of Miss Foster's photographs.

"With youth and health—still, life is dark without Johnnie. Despite her little faults, Johnnie is the one bright spot in my life."

"Johnnie may forsake me, but still I cannot forget my precious gem."

"God has decreed Johnnie's course, his drastic but still just command must be obeyed. Despite the severity of his ban, our meeting on the other side where we can enjoy eternal bliss by knowing and loving each other in a more perfect state."

"Rest and sleep in peace, dear precious one, and await God's just Judgment Day."

The two sisters returned from a theater late Monday night. Miles Wagner, one of Miss Foster's friends, was with them. As they stood on the bungalow porch, a man jumped from an automobile. He carried a shotgun.

Mrs. Remsburg ran into the house screaming. Wagner and the armed man grappled. Miss Foster identified the assailant as Nabors, disguised by smoked glasses and a trick mustache. Watt Foster, brother of Johnnie Foster, was sleeping in a rear room. He heard his sister's screams, ran to the front of the house and saw Nabors in the act of choking Wagner.

"He had shot Wagner and was wrestling with him on the floor—choking him," Watt Foster later told Detective Lieutenant Herman Cline. "I recognized Nabors as the man with the trick mustache and smoked goggles. He was arrested late yesterday morning by University police when he walked into a trap at a plumbing establishment at 1110 East Slauson avenue, where he was employed."

Nabors, who was also wanted by the Sheriff's office for the car shooting and seriously wounding Earl Foltz at Monterey Park recently, confessed his part in the shooting, according to Detective Lieutenants Cline, George Smith and Joseph Finn. At the Receiving Hospital, he was forced to face Watt Foster, who identified him as the assailant.

she said, that Mrs. Phillips arrived at the Primrose-avenue cottage. The four men and the other woman had been there for several days. Mrs. Phillips remained secluded a great part of her stay there, the owner of the house declared, venturing away only at rare intervals. Always, she said, she went in a closed automobile and on one or two occasions was absent for a day and a night.

On three occasions, the owner of the house said, she entered the house when the women were present. She is positive that one of them was Clara Phillips. Mrs. Phillips left on February 12, she asserts.

She had paid little attention to newspaper stories of the Meadows girl's murder and the subsequent escape of her slayer, the house owner asserted, and was until she was visited by an investigator from the District Attorney's office that she saw a picture of Clara Phillips.

It was while they were shadowing a gang of bootleggers that the investigators came upon Mrs. Phillips' trail, the investigators declare.

One of the men in the gang was trailed to the home of Jesse Carson, at 4514 Mineral avenue, now under arrest with Mrs. Phillips in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, it is declared.

MAY ARREST HUSBAND
Possible arrest of Armour Phillips, husband of the hammer slayer, loomed last night as the next step in the attempted solution of Mrs. Phillips' escape from the County Jail.

It was stated by Chief Dist. Atty. Keyes that no attempt would be made to extradite Etta Mae Jackson, who also is in custody in Honduras, or Jesse Carson, the third member of the trio. If either Mrs. Jackson or Carson ever return to this country, they will be prosecuted as accomplices in the escape of the hammer slayer, it was stated.

Because Phillips is asserted to have been in the company of Mrs. Jackson in the vicinity of Carson's home in Hyde Park shortly after Mrs. Phillips' escape, it was rumored yesterday that his arrest on charges of having aided his wife to obtain her freedom was inevitable.

Last night the owner of the two houses positively identified one of the women as Clara Phillips. From photographs of Mrs. Phillips shown her by a Times reporter, she picked two as being likeliest of one of her women tenants.
